

For Immediate Release

The Hive In Downtown Cañon City Announces New Ownership and Management
Becki Logsdon steps in as co-owner and manager of The Hive

Cañon City, CO (June 15, 2020) - Becki Logsdon, owner of Back in Black Financial, has become The Hive in Downtown Cañon City's newest partner and manager. This change occurred officially on Tuesday, July 14, 2020.

The Hive in Downtown Cañon City, which describes itself as "A coworking community that enables a balanced life/work experience," opened on Main Street in October, 2017. Former school teachers, Carla Braddy and Jill Fredrickson, created The Hive to provide local business people a space open to everyone, from the individual who needs a desk and wifi for two hours to the professional who needs a full-time and fully equipped office.

Fredrickson, who is stepping away, is thrilled Logsdon has taken the reins of this business. She said, "The Hive in Downtown Cañon City, like all dynamic businesses and people, has grown and improved over its three years of existence and now welcomes Becki Logsdon as its new co-owner who is well-skilled to take it to its next, vibrant level."

Logsdon, a Cañon City native, returned to the city in March, 2017. She brought with her Back in Black Financial, Small Business Accounting Experts, which she moved into an office space in The Hive in February.

Logsdon said, "When I first stepped into The Hive, I knew there was something special going on. I also knew I needed to move my business in and become a part of this amazing space. It's more than an office building. It's a place where we can all come together to get our work done."

Management of The Hive also falls to Logsdon as she will assume the responsibilities for member questions and issues.

"To have the opportunity to collaborate with Carla, stepping into Jill's phenomenal shoes, I'm genuinely honored and absolutely thrilled to see how The Hive will continue to meet the needs of Fremont County's coworking community," said Logsdon.

For more information about The Hive in Downtown Cañon City, contact Becki Logsdon at 719-792-1234

The Hive is located at 729 Main St., Cañon City, CO 81212.

###